Introduction

The tax issues connected to cross border transactions can be complicated. These include withholding tax implications, tax treatment of "foreign source income" and the related expenses and the consequences of sales of assets between controlled parties, to name a few. This workshop will take the participants to a detailed discussion of the important areas to be considered to ensure that the tax affairs of the relevant parties engaged in cross border transactions are adequately addressed.

Cross border transactions encompass transfer of goods, services, capital, and technology. It is possible that more than one country has a taxation claim on income from such transactions. As a consequence, the same income may be taxed twice i.e. Economic Double Taxation Occurs. As such, Double Taxation Agreements play an important role in managing numerous issues.

- Taxation issues for outbound and inbound investments
- Rules on the derivation of Malaysian income
- Special Classes of Income under Section 4A of the Income Tax Act, 1967
- Section 109B vs Section 107A of Income Tax Act, 1967 - how it is applied in practice
- Withholding tax and permanent establishment considerations
- Determination of Permanent Establishments and the income tax implications
- Steps to determine if income remitted to Malaysia is foreign or Malaysian sourced
- Tax treatment of cross border sales / purchases of assets
- The OECD Model Treaty - a discussion
- Double Taxation agreements
- Avoidance of double taxation
- Tax havens and overseas holding company structures
- Anti-avoidance issues
- Case studies

Objectives of Tax Treaties (Double Taxation Agreements)

Primary Objectives

- Avoidance of Double Taxation
- Prevention of Fiscal Evasion

Secondary Objectives

- Promote international trade
- Create certainty and tax stability
- Provide mechanism for resolution of international disputes
- Promote tax incentives by the developing countries
- Allocate taxing rights between contracting states
- Prevent tax discrimination

The Speaker will share his vast experience and knowledge of the factors that need to be considered in ascertaining the Malaysian taxation implications arising as a result of engaging in cross border transactions.
